

Creating Sacred Space through Veil Painting

A 5-Day Veil Painting Workshop for all levels with Pamela Whitman, M.A., Light, Color and Darkness Painting Therapist and International Teacher

DATE: July 10-14, 2017, Monday through Friday

TIME: 9:30am - 4:30pm each day

LOCATION: Cedarwood Waldorf School, 3030 SW Second St., Portland, OR 97201

COST: $425 - includes tuition, all materials, daily catered lunch and healthy snacks. Participants will receive a Baltic Birch painting board, a pallet of artists' quality watercolors and Arches watercolor paper to facilitate continuing to paint at home!

Dive into the healing, regenerative, breathing world of Color arising out of the meeting of Light and Darkness. This will be a time of renewal on all levels as we work in a beautiful space and nurturing, supportive atmosphere—and are treated to delicious catered lunches, healthy snacks and beverages!

- We will begin by working with Light and Darkness in charcoal, creating the foundation for understanding the world of color on a whole new level.
- We will explore the essential idea of Color Space giving rise to Color Qualities, experiencing the connection to the human being and the possibility of creating Sacred Space as an invitation to Self or Spirit in our paintings.
- We will learn both basic and advanced techniques of Veil Painting, which involves building up color with successive washes of transparent watercolor, each layer drying before the addition of the next. Working with the laws of Light, Darkness and Color, we will first create a color atmosphere or mood, and then gradually bring in form arising out of the world of color.
- Artistic and practical, challenging and inspiring—we develop ourselves as we develop our art!

Enrollment is limited. Reserve your space by sending a check for $425 made payable to Cedarwood Waldorf School, 3030 SW Second Ave., Portland, OR 97201. Registration deadline is 6/23/17.
